

Workpaper for Shipper Imbalance- Submitted by Skipping Stone

Skipping Stone proposes the following with respect to the Adjustment Value Adjustment Value Data Element

The Adjustment Value data element should be eliminated from the Shipper Imbalance data set.

In the alternative, the data element should be moved to the Service Requester Contract Level and be further defined as the new Adjustment Value in total (and not the change from a previously communicated value). In essence the practice would be that the Adjustment Value would be a restated Value of the Imbalance, not a value which would have to be subtracted from or added to a previously communicated value.
