

NAESB WEQ Electric Trading Task Force
Proposed Definitions - 4/21/2003

Day Ahead Trading Period – The 24-hour period prior to the commencement of the operating period during which all day ahead market products are transacted

Operating Period – The 24-hour period (except where there is a change to or from daylight savings time) from midnight to midnight pertaining to electric operation of the power system