Announcement: Call for Potential Projects for Standards Development

NERC is in the process of developing the 2012-2014 Reliability Standard Development Plan (RSDP). The RSDP will be developed over the next several months, and will provide status updates for projects in development, identify the next projects scheduled for initiation, designate projects for further research, and catalog all proposed projects for future development.

As the first part of this effort, NERC is soliciting the industry for suggestions regarding potential projects. The following is a list of projects (those marked with an asterisk are currently in development):
