Dear Prospective NAESB Member:

If you choose to join NAESB, you will be joining approximately 350 other pro-active companies and organizations in a membership-driven organization dedicated to advancing the use of business practices and electronic commerce in electricity and natural gas markets and other efficiencies that industry standardization have to offer.

As a member of NAESB, your company or organization will be entitled to vote on standards for your industry quadrant and the opportunity, if nominated by other members of your industry segment, to serve on the Board of Directors and the Executive Committee. You'll find it useful to check NAESB's website, www.naesb.org, on a regular basis to keep up to date on meeting schedules, pending votes, subcommittee and task force deliberations, new course offerings, and other developments. Members can register to receive NAESB e-mail notices of recent postings, as well as meeting and conference call schedules and agendas.

Other membership benefits to which your company would be entitled include:

- Free unlimited downloads of all final standards and model business practices from the NAESB web site. Any employee may request a password.
- Use of "NAESB mail" to automatically receive notices of meetings, conference calls and postings.
- Unlimited access to all portions of web site, including pages listing Final Actions and Annual Meeting materials.
- Free subscription to NAESB's quarterly newsletter, "NAESB Review."
- Free subscription to publications from RJ Rudden Associates.
- Free membership in ANSI Affiliate Program, which offers discounts on their standards, subscription to Standards Tracking and Automated Reporting Services, and subscriptions to "What's New" and "ANSI Reporter."

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me at (713) 356-0060. We look forward to your active participation in NAESB.

Sincerely yours,

Rae McQuade

Ms. Rae McQuade
